The Need – Physical Activity

- CDC's Vital Signs, May 2014
 - Adults with disabilities are 3 times more likely to have heart disease, stroke, diabetes, or cancer than adults without disabilities.
 - Nearly half of all adults with disabilities get no aerobic physical activity, an important health behavior to help avoid these chronic diseases.

Challenges

- Physical
 - Limits in ability to exercise, eat, chew, etc.
 - Pain, lack of energy
- Environmental
 - Lack of accessible environments (sidewalks, parks, and exercise equipment)

Challenges

- Resources
 - Money, transportation, and social support from family, friends, neighbors, and community members
- Societal
 - Community inclusion in programs *

Guidelines for Disability Inclusion in Physical Activity, Nutrition, and Obesity Programs and Policies

- Increase # of national and state program and policy recommendations inclusive of the needs of people with disabilities.
- For government entities and organizations creating, implementing, or overseeing program initiatives and policies in physical activity, nutrition, and obesity.
- Intended to cover local, state, and national programs.
- To assure inclusion of disability in community health promotion strategies using national recommendations.
- To be used to evaluate whether plans and programs effectively include people with disabilities.

Guideline Development and Approval Process

- Literature review
 - Development of guidelines and criteria for inclusion of people with disabilities
 - Materials related to national strategies in physical activity, nutrition, and obesity
- Developed draft proposed guidelines and implementation steps

Guideline Development and Approval Process

- Expert panel (13 members)
 - National disability experts
 - Nutrition, physical activity, prevention experts
 - State office of Disability and Health director
 - Disability Policy and Legal experts
 - Large HMO, public health, and school district reps

Guideline Development and Approval Process

- Expert review process
 - Members reviewed guidelines online
 - detailed quantitative and qualitative feedback
 - guidance about the implementation steps
 - Guidelines revised and returned to panel
 - Criteria for evaluating the guidelines
 - Vote to approve guidelines

Guideline Development and Approval Process

- Criteria for evaluating the guidelines

Reach-The guideline is likely to affect a large percentage of the target population.

Sustainability-The guideline has potential to endure over time.

Transferability-The guideline can be implemented in communities that differ in size, resources, and demographics.

Utility-The guideline will assist state organizations and others to plan and monitor community-level programs and strategies.

Guideline Development and Approval Process

- Criteria for evaluating the guidelines

Feasibility

Required knowledge, skills, staff, equipment, or other resources to implement the guideline are not exceedingly prohibitive to putting it in place for the target population.

Inclusion

The guideline is likely to promote inclusion of people with a range of different disabilities.

Guidelines for Disability Inclusion in Physical Activity, Nutrition, and Obesity Initiatives and Policies

- 1. Objectives Include People with Disabilities

Program objectives should explicitly and unambiguously state that the target population includes people with a range of different disabilities (cognitive, intellectual and other developmental disabilities, mobility, visual, hearing, and mental health disabilities).

Guidelines for Disability Inclusion in Physical Activity, Nutrition, and Obesity Initiatives and Policies

- 2. Involvement of People with Disabilities in Development, Implementation & Evaluation

Program development, implementation, and evaluation should include input from people with a range of different disabilities and their representatives (e.g., community members or other experts with disabilities, potential participants with disabilities and their family members, personal assistants, and caregivers).

Guidelines for Disability Inclusion in Physical Activity, Nutrition, and Obesity Initiatives and Policies

- 3. Program Accessibility

Programs should be accessible to people with disabilities and other users, socially, behaviorally, programmatically, in communication, and in the physical environment.

Guidelines for Disability Inclusion in Physical Activity, Nutrition, and Obesity Initiatives and Policies

- 4. Accommodations for Participants with Disabilities

Programs should address individual needs of participants with disabilities through accommodations that are specifically tailored to those needs.

Guidelines for Disability Inclusion in Physical Activity, Nutrition, and Obesity Initiatives and Policies

- 5. Outreach and Communication to People with Disabilities

Programs should use a variety of accessible methods to outreach and promote the program(s) to people with disabilities.

Guidelines for Disability Inclusion in Physical Activity, Nutrition, and Obesity Initiatives and Policies

- 6. Cost Considerations and Feasibility

Programs should address potential resource implications of inclusion (including staffing, training, equipment, and other resources needed to promote inclusion).

Guidelines for Disability Inclusion in Physical Activity, Nutrition, and Obesity Initiatives and Policies

- 7. Affordability

Programs should be affordable to people with disabilities and their families, personal assistants, and caregivers.

Guidelines for Disability Inclusion in Physical Activity, Nutrition, and Obesity Initiatives and Policies

● 8. Process Evaluation

Programs should implement process evaluation (with transparent monitoring, accountability and quality assurance) that includes feedback from people with disabilities and family members, personal assistants, caregivers or other representatives, and a process for making changes based on feedback.

Guidelines for Disability Inclusion in Physical Activity, Nutrition, and Obesity Initiatives and Policies

- 9. Outcomes Evaluation

Programs should collect outcomes data, using multiple disability-appropriate measures.

Stakeholder Input

- Stakeholders (n=15) included: federal agencies; state and local public health organizations and associations; and disability-specific associations.
- Enthusiasm about the Guidelines
- Guidelines would benefit stakeholder organizations and constituents, and
- Budget constraints are a potential barrier to implementation of Guidelines

COMMITMENT

SHAPE America is committed to creating programs, products and services that promote the positive development of ALL children regardless of ability. SHAPE America has a government relations department that advocates for support of high-quality physical education and adapted physical education at the federal, state and locals levels. Front and center in SHAPE America's Legislative Agenda is our 'ask' to retain physical education within the definition of special education in the re-authorization of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA). SHAPE America seeks to ensure that adapted physical education services are delivered to students by a state certified/licensed teacher endorsed to teach adapted physical education.

COMMITMENT

Play Like A Girl! is a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit organization dedicated to ending childhood obesity in girls by promoting physical activity as a path to health and success. Play Like A Girl! will incorporate Commit to Inclusion in all of our policies, procedures and programs in an effort to empower people with disability to lead healthy, active lifestyles.

COMMITMENT

The WZA is the first competition of its kind in the fitness world, to include an Adaptive-Athlete division. We are putting as much emphasis on being inclusive as we do on our elite-level athletes. This is a profound step in providing opportunities for all athletes to compete in CrossFit inspired competitions, and we intend to make this a part of WZA's identity. We hope others will follow suit, and that we can inspire more to provide opportunities to individuals with physical and intellectual disabilities.
